“We value the vital role of the private sector as a key partner in development and a supporter of the national economy. We will continue to empower and encourage the private sector to achieve further growth and development.”

Custodian of the Two Holy Mosques
King Salman bin Abdulaziz Al Saud — may Allah preserve him.

“ We aim to create an attractive investment environment that contributes to steering the national economy toward broad horizons of growth. ”

His Royal Highness the Crown Prince, Prime Minister Mohammed bin Salman bin Abdulaziz — may Allah preserve him.

“The recent amendments issued by the Council of Ministers to the Accredited Valuers Law are aligned with the vital role undertaken by the Saudi Authority for Accredited Valuers (TAQEEM) in supervising, regulating, and developing the valuation profession. The Authority plays a prominent role in the Kingdom’s economic system, in line with the objectives of Saudi Vision 2030.”

His Excellency the Minister of Finance
Mohammed bin Abdullah Al Jadaan

The valuation profession in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia is witnessing remarkable and accelerated development, thanks to the clear and dedicated governmental efforts represented by the Saudi Authority for Accredited Valuers (TAQEEM), the official regulator of the valuation profession. The Authority operates in accordance with international standards, global best practices, and recognized scientific foundations, believing in the vital role of valuation in protecting rights, ensuring fairness among beneficiaries, and enhancing trust and transparency in the market — thereby creating an attractive investment environment in line with Saudi Vision 2030.
